Major Jacob Ridgway Wright of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a graduate of Princeton and well known throughout Pennsylvania on account of his work in the coal strike in forming the Citizens' Alliance, died in the New York Hospital at 11 o'clock yesterday morning from the effects of a bullet wound in his left side. He shot himself about 6:30 o'clock yesterday morning in his room at

Among Major Wright's friends there is no doubt that it was an accident. This is also the opinion of Coroner Scholer, who made an investigation of the affair, but the police think that Wright was a suicide.

With Wright at the time he was shot was Dr. Howard A. Pardee, a physician of this city, and medical director of the United States Life Insurance Company. He had spent the night with Wright, who had been Coroner, Wright went to his bureau wearing his pajamas and picked up his revolver, which in some way exploded. Wright himself, before he died, told the doctors at the New York Hospital that that was what had happened. He said that he and the doctor had been talking about guns, that he had gone to the bureau to get his, and that in taking it out of the drawer it went off.

The bullet entered his left side, about two inches above the hip, passed in a straight line to the right side, and stopped near the surface. Wright died while he much time here, although his home was in Wilkesbarre. His room at the Imperial he kept all the year round. As a result so much so that Wright asked him to remain all night. Dr. Pardee said that Wright didn't sleep much until near morning, but woke up saying that he felt better.

"I was about to put on my things and leave," said Dr. Pardee, "when Major Wright got out of bed and went over to the bureau as I supposed to get some papers. I was standing at the foot of the bed and didn't pay any particular attention until I heard a shot. I saw that Major Wright had been shot and carried him to

In the bureau drawer McDonough found united States Life Insurance Company, and for George Hart, his counsel. They were in Jefferson Market court when he was arraigned before Magistrate Crane on a short affidavit made by the policeman, to the effect that he had reason to believe the doctor had feloniously assaulted his Magistrate Crane said that Dr. Pardee's explanation was entirely sufficient, but, as an affidavit had been made, he would parole him in the custody of his counsel. Just as the doctor and his friends were Just as the doctor and his friends were deaving the court room word came from the New York Hospital that Wright was dead. It was necessary then to rearrest the doctor and again arraign him before the Magistrate, who this time remanded him to the Coroner. With his friends, Dr. Pardee hurried down to Coroner Scholer's effect where they had to wait, as the latter office, where they had to wait, as the latter was at the hospital.

At the hospital Coroner Scholer got the statement of the doctors as to what Wright had said before he lapsed into unconsciousness. The Coroner said that as a matter of form he would hold Dr. Pardee under $500 half to appear at the inquest Ball was form he would hold Dr. Pardee under $500 bail to appear at the inquest. Bail was furnished by Dr. Munn.

Major Wright's sudden death was a great shock to his friends here and in Wilkesbarre. He was 50 years old. His father, Hendrie B. Wright, was a wealthy man and a Democrat of promise. Through him Wright inherited a large property and enjoyed a comfortable income, mostly from royalties in coal lands.

Mrs. Wright got here from Wilkesbarre yesterday afternoon and engaged rooms yesterday afternoon and engaged rooms at the Imperial. Late in the afternoon she had her husband's body moved to the rooms of the Stephen Merritt Burial Com-pany at Nincteenth street and Eighth

"Great numbers of murders are being committed in this city with impunity, said the District Attorney. "Life and limb are practically valueless. In the Tombs or on trial at present are twenty-one persons under the charge of murder."

Mr. Jerome explained that he had accepted a plea of manslaughter because Miller might not have been convicted of murder. Abe Levy, who appeared for Miller, asked for clemency. He said Miller was only 22 and ought to be sent to some institution for correction.

"That is all bosh in this case," replied Mr. Jerome. "This man was living with approstitute. She went out to visit afriend, and four boys asked her for money for a pint of beer. Half an hour later she returned and told Miller that she had been insulted. He got a pistol and went out. He saw four boys standing on a corner. Without provocation he fired, killing one of them and wouncing three others. I am opposed to the promiscuous use of firearms, and in this case there is not the sightest reason for clemency."

Mr. Jerome explained that he ad accepted a plea of manslaughter because Miller might not have been convicted of murder."

Mr. Jerome explained that he had accepted a plea of manslaughter because Miller might not have been convicted of murder. Abe Levy, who appeared for Miller asked for clemency."

With Remarks by Dr. Darlington for the Value of knowledge to Sanltation.

George L. Rives, the former Corporation Counsel, on behalf of the trustees of the Carnegle Library Fund, formally turned over to the city yesterday the sixth bracenhover to the city yesterday the sixth bracenhover to the Carnegie Library Fund, formally turned over to the city yesterday the sixth bracenhover to the city yesterday the sixth bracenhover to the carnegie fund. Health Carnegie Library Fund, formally turned over to the city yesterday the sixth bracenhover to the city of the New York Public Library. In East Sixty-seve pint of beer. Half an hour later she returned and told Miller that she had been insulted. He got a pistol and went out. He saw four boys standing on a corner. Without provocation he fired, killing one of them and wounding three others. I am opposed to the promiscuous use of firearms, and in this case there is not the sightest reason for elemency."

Mr. Levy remarked that he, too, was against the carrying of firearms. He said he hoped Mr. Jerome's bill making it a misdemeanor to carry a pistol would be Jassed by the Legislature.

Counsel, on behalf of the trustees of the Carnegie Library Fund, formally turned over to the city yesterday the sixth bracanh of the New York Public Library, in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library. In East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh street, east of Second avenue of the New York Public Library in East Sixty-seventh st

Colorado Springs, and Pueblo, on sale daily to April 30, inclu-sive, with final return limit June 1, 1905, from

ST. LOUIS $39.20 CHICAGO $47.20

With correspondingly low rates from other points. Be sure your ticket reads over this line.

R. TENBROECK, Cen'l Eastern Agt. 237 Broadway, New York City

According to Dr. Pardee's story to the TWO POLICEMEN CONVICTED

OF FIRST DEGREE MANSLAUGH-TER-MAY GET 20 YEARS.

McLaughlin and Devanna in the Tombs With Malion, Who's Appealed His Case -First Named Under Indictment Also for Having Assaulted a Reporter.

Two policemen were convicted of manslaughter in the first degree in General ions yesterday. They are Frank Mcwas under ether, just after the doctors had | Laughlin of the West Sixty-eighth street station and Eugene V. Devanna of the Wright had been accustomed to spend High Bridge station. They were remanded to the hore hore although his home was for sentence. The maximum penalty is twenty years in Sing Sing.

When McLaughlin and Devanna were taken back to the Tombs last night they of his labors in the coal strike of 1902, Major Wright's health broke down, and his friends say he had never been a well man since.

According to Dr. Pardee, he was troubled with a bad nervous disease. For this he that had never been a well man since.

According to Dr. Pardee, he was troubled with a bad nervous disease. For this he Bowery. He was sentenced to twenty with a bad nervous disease. For this he placed himself under the care of Dr. Jasper J. Garmany of 40 West Fortieth street. Dr. Garmany is Andrew Carnegie's physician, and was an old friend of Major Wright Dr. Garmany had been treating him, and called on him last Sunday. Dr. Pardee was assisting Dr. Garmany.

About ten days ago, according to Dr. Pardee, he became worse, and had to stay here. According to the testimony of all his friends, however, he was cheerful and happy and was looking forward to going back to Wilkesbarre. After that it was his intention to take a trip to Mexico to look into some mining property.

He was sentenced to twenty years, but took an appeal.

Mallon was exonerated by a Coroner's jury presided over by Coroner Scholer, who is presided over by Coroner's jury presided over by Cor back to Wilkesbarre. After that it was his intention to take a trip to Mexico to look into some mining property.

Dr. Pardee told Coroner Scholer that when he called on Wright on Thursday evening he found him feeling very bad, so much so that Wright asked him to remain all night. Dr. Pardee said that Wright didn't sleep much until near morning, but woke up saving that he felt better.

"I was about to put on my things and leave," said Dr. Pardee, "when Major Wright got out of bed and went over to the bureau as I supposed to get some the bureau as I supposed to get some to the bed and didn't pay any particular attention until I heard a shot. I saw that Major Wright had been shot and carried him to the bed. As I did so he told me that he had picked up his gun and that it had gone of accidentally."

Dr. Pardee called up the New York hospital, and asked that an ambulance be sent. He also went immediately to the clerk and reported. The clerk sent for Policeman McDonough of the Tenderloin precinct at the time. Much interest was taken in the trime. Much interest was taken in the time. Much appeared was taken in the time. Much interest was taken in the time. Much interest was taken in the time. Much appeared was taken in the time. Much appeared was taken in the time. Much interest was taken in the time. Much appeared was taken in the time. Much interest was taken in the time. Much appeared was taken in Roosevelt when he was Police Commi the revolver with which Wright had been shot, with the cartridges all taken out, and he decided then to place Dr. Pardee under arrest.

Dr. Pardee took his arrest coolly and sent for Dr. J. P. Munn, who is head of the linited States Life Insurance Company. was so drunk that he staggered and finally fell on the railroad tracks. Although Devanna made no defence, his counsel in examining the prosecution's witnesses tried accidentally.

In each case the jury was out about four hours. In the Devanna case the jury came in to ask Judge Foster the definition of murder in the first degree. In the McLaughlin case the Recorder was asked to define the different degrees of mandaughter.

DON'T 'PHONE THE JUDGE. Justice Bischoff Puts on Record Ills Objection to Such Appeals.

Supreme Court Justice Bischoff took occasion yesterday to criticise the habit f some lawyers of writing or telephoning to Judges in regard to cases before them. On Wednesday Justice Bischoff refused to grant a divorce to Mrs. Marie Meyer to grant a divorce to Mrs. Marie aleyer because he was not satisfied with the proof of service by publication on Michael Meyer, the defendant. The decision was published in the Law Journal, and yesterday Justice Bischoff received a letter from Hillquit & Hillquit, Mrs. Meyer's lawyers, in which the firm explained that service had been made both personally and by publication rooms of the Stephen Merritt Burial Com-pany at Nineteenth street and Eighth avenue. It will be sent to Scranton this morning.

TWENTY YEARS FOR A KILLING. | considered the publication sufficient. |
In view of the Court's decision, the lawyers asked in the letter for leave to

There are Too Many Pistols in Use and Too Many Murders. Says Jerome.

Herman Miller, the bartender who killed one man and shot three others at 116th etreet and Third avenue on July 23 last, was arraigned before Judge Foster in General Sessions yesterday for sentence. He had pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the first degree. District Attorney Jerome was in court and asked for a heavy sentence.

"Great numbers of murders are being committed in this city with impunity," said the District Attorney. "Life and limb are practically valueless. In the Tombs or on trial at present are twenty-one persons under the charge of murder."

he hoped Mr. Jerome's bill making it a misdemeanor to carry a pistol would be passed by the Legislature.

Judge Foster said he agreed with Mr. Jerome and sentenced Miller to twenty years. Miller had also pleaded guilty to three charges of assault, for which he could have received ten years each.

"I could have sentenced you to a collective term of fifty years," Judge Foster added.

Dr. John S. Binings, director of the New York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the library is circulating department and the first to be opened directly by that library. It contains 10,000 books, many specially selected to the New York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the New York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the New York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the library is circulating department and the first to be opened directly by that library. It contains 10,000 books, many specially selected to the York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the library's circulating department and the first to be opened directly by that library. It contains 10,000 books, many specially selected to the New York Public Library, and W. R. Eastman, State Inspector, also spoke.

The building, fully equipped, cost $75,000. It is the twenty-eighth branch of the library is the first to be opened directly by that library. It contains 10,000 books, many specially selected to the first of the first to be opened directly by that library. It contains 10,000 books, many specially selected to the first to be opened directly b

Disraeli's Novel About Gladstone

"Was ever a more delightful situation? An ex-Prime Minster of England defeated at the polls by his rival after a contest of unexampled bitterness, takes a humorous revenge by writing a novel with that rival for the hero."-London Times, Jan. 20.

Synopsis of the Story.

The hitherto unpublished story by Benjamin Disraeli, Lord Beaconsfield, which will appear in the Sunday edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES, beginning Jan. 72 is a novel of satire and philosophy, benjaming Jan. 72 is a novel of satire and philosophy, the philosophy being a part of the satire. The nine chapters suffice to present to the reader a group of clearly drawn and sharply differentiated characters.

As in all of Disraell's novels, the satire is directed against English ittled and middle-class society. There is the Falconet family-of which the head is a great banker-very pious, deeply interested in tracts and Bibliogian of the satire of the satire and classes, very philanthropic, dull, and narrow Claribel, Countess Bertram, is a great social leader, and onuses for a woman of much wit and learning, chiefly because, although her mind is quite empty and she rather silly and foolish, she is shrewd enough to make her friends and guests entertain the belief that she is singularly gifted. She has a son, an altogether heterodux yeung person, who restens his seat in the House of Commons, because he is unable to agree with anybody about anything.

There is an interesting East Indian gentleman, Kusinara, a Buddhist, who with Mr. Hartmann, a German disciple of Schopenhauer, and a mysterious, brilliant stranger whose name is not disclosed, conspire to satabilish London society a propagaida of a mongret pessimistic and Vedistic philosophy intended by them to subvert and destroy the Christian religion. Their plot to make the silly and credulous but socially powerful Lady Bertram the leader of their cuit vividiy recalls the story of Mme Blavatsky's relation to the sudden flowering out of Theosophy in New York some years ago.

Finally there is Mr. Gladstone, Lord Beaconsthe story of Mme. Blavatsky's relation to the sudden flowering out of Theosophy in New York some years ago.

Finally there is Mr. Gladstone, Lord Beaconsfield's lifelong opponent, whom the reader will at once recognize in the character of Joseph Toplady Falconet. The portrait is drawn with an audacious likeness to the original, and upon this personage the author with visible delight expends his sharpest satire. The pletistic activities of Faiconet's early youth are delineated; his Oxford career, his entry into politics, his election to the House of Commons, the fervor and seal with which he devotes himself to public affairs, and notably his eloquence and wonderful flow of words, serve to make the development of the character follow a line immediately parallel to the early life of Mr. Gladstone.

It was perhaps Disraell's real opinion of Gladstone that found expression in these diaparaging sentences: "With all his abilities and achievements, Joseph Toplady Falcone was essentially a prig, and among prigs there is a freemasonry that never falls. All the prigs spoke of him as the coming man." That is perfectly characteristic of the distinguished and noble author, and it is a good example of the quality which makes this unfinished story by him so highly readable. The characters are marshaled, the story is already well on its feet, the action has begun with a notably lively movement already sufficient to evoke the reader's interest, when the end of the fragmentary tale is reached.

THE LITERARY SENSATION

OF THE DAY!

No event has occurred in the world of letters in many years comparable in interest and importance with the discovery of an unfinished novel among the papers of the late Benjamin Disraeli, Earl of Beaconsfield and Prime Minister of England, dealing with people of his day conspicuous in politics, letters and society, and notably with Disraeli's lifelong political rival, WILLIAM E. GLADSTONE, who, under the name of JOSEPH TOPLADY FALCONET, figures as the hero of the story. The portrait, it is true, is unfinished, for the death of Disraeli brought the work to an untimely end, but it is easily recognizable and is made fascinating by Disraeli's unfailing flow of satire and epigram. In the words of an acute critic who has read the story it is "a fragment of what would have been in its entirety one of the strangest productions of the strangest and most wayward master-mind that ever passed from literature to politics and back again."

It May Be Interesting to Know That This Last Word of Disraeli in Fiction Has Been Purchased From His Executors for a Sum Which Equals the Rate of One Dollar a Word, Which Is Probably the Highest Price Ever Paid for Such a Work.

IT WILL BE PUBLISHED IN

NEW YORK SUNDAY TIMES

BEGINNING TO-MORROW, JAN. 22,

and running through three numbers. As THE NEW YORK TIMES will be the only medium through which this work can be obtained in America during the next three years, no one should miss this opportunity.

ORDER FROM YOUR NEWSDEALER TO-DAY.

and finally bers of the association. He succeeds Otto Although M. Eidlitz, who has been continuously president for four years.

Mr. Eidlitz is still chairman of the board of governors of the Building Trades Employers' Association and of its emergency committee, though his name is no longer on the board of officers of the Mason Builders' Association.

The other members of the new board of officers are: First vice-president, Isaac A. Hopper, who is superintendent of the Building Department of this city; second vice-president, Andrew J. Robinson; treasurer. Charles A. Cowen, secretary, William H. Foster, Mr. Hopper was reelected, Mr. Foster, whose place is salaried, holds over, and the others are new officers.

There was considerable speculation vesand the others are new officers.

There was considerable speculation yesterday as to why Mr. Eidlitz was not reelected. He has for years been regarded as the bead of the body, and through his place as chairman of the board of governors he has been the moving spirit in the Building Trades Employers' Association.

It came out yesterday that, though George Schaettler of the Interior Decorators' and Cabinet Makers' Association has been expelled from the Building Trades Employers' Association for three months, his bond of Association for three months his bond of $41,500 has not been collected. He was expelled for following the same course as the Thompson-Starrett Company did in reemploying the locked out carpenters. He has since resigned from the Interior Decorators' and Cabinet Makers' Association of the control of the co tion, but was released from a bond of $2,500 to that association. Mr. Schaettler said yesterday:

"I am now out of all trade associations and out of the Building Trades Employers' Association, and mean to stay out. As far as I can see, the association cannot have mandatory powers to continue conditions that are utterly unreasonable. When the board of governors notified me that it would collect my bond, I notified them that I would contest the matter in the courts."

NEW BUILDING ASSOCIATION. Independent Contractors Propose to Fight Combinations.

In response to a call sent out by John R. Sheehan of John R. Sheehan & Co., a a change in judicial ethics, which may be induced by business conditions in their future development, but which has not yet Antoinette, Sixty-sixth street and Broad-Antoinette, Sixty-sixth street and Broadway, to arrange for a master builders' association. The new organization is to differ essentially in many of its aims from the Building Trades Employers' Association.

Among the firms represented at the meeting were Murphy Bros., Ryan & McFerran, the Thompson-Starrett Company and about half a dozen other large contracting firms. The present condition of the building trades was discussed and several of those present said that restrictions had been placed on the purchase of materials and labor through petty combinations, which were doing incalculable nations, which were doing incalculable harm to the trade. It was decided that another meeting should be held in a few days to organize. In the meantime some missionary work is to be done.

Long Acre Hotel Company Bankrupt, A petition in bankrupter was filed vesterday against the Long Acre Hotel Company, which operated the Hotel Spalding, at 127 West Forty-third street, by A. Hershfield for creditors for rent, services and produce. The hotel was built by Robert H. Spalding, against whom a petition in bankruptcy was, filed in Aug. 30, and who died on Dec. 10 while proceedings were still pending. It is an apartment hotel.

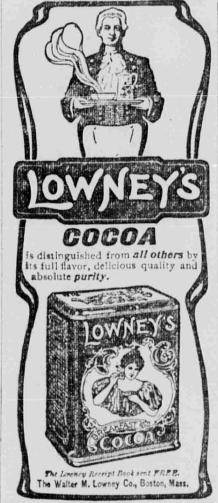

ris Heights Hotel. He was prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Train. Devants a member of the mounted squad, went into the saloon while drunk and quarrelsome. The bartender refused to sell him any more liquor and he became abusives. An effort was made to get him out of the saloon, whereupon he drew his pistol and fired. Then he ran out of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally fell.

The new president to sell him and to get him out of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally fell.

The new president to suit your good taste will lead you to. Perhaps you'll happen on a piece of cloth worth $60. We purchased an importer's whole stock at such an advantage as to enable us to give you materials worth three times our price—$25.

The new president is Thomas M. Weeks as loon, ne of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally the saloon where the provided at the time of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally the saloon was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally the saloon was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon, but where the saloon was prosecuted by the saloon of the saloon was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon was so drunk that he staggered and finally bers of the saloon was prosecuted to suit your good that the stage of the lead you to. Perhaps you'll happen on a dividend of Six per cent interest increasity sa

Broadway and 9th Street.

SIX MONTHS FOR SHIMSMAS. Two Couples Sent to the Island-Four Girls Put on Probation.

Magistrate Barlow, in the Tombs police court, yesterday disposed of nine of the East Side "cadet" cases which Jacob H. Sohiff and other wealthy Hebrews, through their attorney, Simon Noot, have brought to light. "Kid" Betts and his wife, Molly, were sentenced to six months each in the workhouse. The girl fainted when the sentence was pronounced and the "Kid" vowed vengeance. Scotty Rogers and a girl named Alice Rogers also got six months each. Annie Miller, "Chinese" Lizzie, Evelyn Wilson, Lena Meyers and Lena Hirsch were allowed to go on probation, with the warning that if they were again arrested they would be sent to the Bedford Reformatory.

WHEN WE OFFER CLOTHING AT REDUCED PRICES, IT MEANS SOMETHING.

OUR CUSTOMERS KNOW THAT IT IS AN HONEST CUT-BOTH IN PRICE AND IN THE GARMENT. WHAT ARE LEFT OF OUR $15 TO $22 SUITS ARE YOURS TO-DAY

MIXED CHEVIOTS, WORSTEDS AND THIBETS IN STYLISH SACK SUITS. AND NOT MANY OF THEM. COOPER SQUARE AND BROOKLYN

$12.00

Browning-King. g. @

No Senator Yet in Missouri. JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 20 .- The selection of a United States Senator to succeed Senator Cockrell is still unsettled, the joint Assembly at the meeting to-day in which but one ballot was taken having failed to bring about an election. Just when the to bring about an election. Sust when the tie-up will be broken is a problem. No conclusion, at any rate, will be reached before Monday, because there will be no meeting of the joint Assembly until that time. The vote to-day gave Niedringhaus 80, Cockrell, 81; Kerens, 9, and Pettijohn, 1; necessary to a choice, 88.

Delaware's Senate Deadlock Unbroken. WILMINGTON, Del. Jan. 20.-The State Senate took twenty-five more fruitless ballots for President pro tem., this morning. making a total of 157 to date. Adjourn-ment until to-morrow followed. This prac tically ends the third week of the deadlock. as to-morrow's session will be a perfunctory one, with only two Senators present.

The Manamajer Store.

Store Closes at 5:30 o'clock

Fine Overcoats for Men With a Liking for Luxury And a Habit of Thrift

A good many men who read this word are familiar with the thoroughly luxurious Overcoats that we sell at from $35 to $50. Place them side by side with the finest overcoats of the best tailors in New York, and, at least, five times out of ten a man would favor one of the Wanamaker Over-

They have all the style and character that the tailor can put into them. The overcoatings and the linings are of the very highest quality. The workmanship throughout is of the most careful and artistic character.

The man who buys one of these Overcoats is going to wear it several seasons, and January is the time to make the investment if he has any inclination to economy.

This group includes thirteen Overcoats that were $35, eight that were $38, four that were $40, twentyone that were $45 and thirteen that were $50.

The materials are Oxford mixed and black cheviots and Meltons; and all the overcoats are luxuriously lined with fine silk. Sizes sufficient to fit everybody who gets here promptly.

Twenty-five dollars each

WANAMAKER

Formerly A. T. Stewart & Co., Broadway, Fourth ave., 9th and 10th sts.

ATLANTIC MUTUAL INSURANCE COMPANY

The trustees, in conformity with the Charter of the Company, submit the following statement of its affairs on the 31st of December, 1904. Premiums on Marine Risks from 1st January, 1904, to 31st December, 1904... Premiums on Policies not marked off 1st January, 1904.... Premiums marked off from 1st January, 1904, to 31st December, 1904...... Losses paid during the year which were estimated in 1908 and pre-vious years.

Losses occurred, estimated and paid in 1904...... Returns of Premiums and Expenses...... $405,721 81

The Company has the following Assets, viz:
United States and State of New York Stock, City, Bank and other Securities.
Special deposits in Banks and Trust Companies.
Real Estate corner Wall and Williams Sts., and Exchange Place.
Other Real Estate and claims due the Company

MORRIS K. JESUP,
THEODORE P. JOHNSON,
LEWIS CASS LEDYARD,
FRANCIS H. LEGGETT,
CHARLES D. LEVERICH,
LEANDER N. LOVELL,
GEORGE H. MACY,
CHARLES H. MARSHALL,
W. H. H. MOORE.

NICHOLAS F. PALMER, HENRY PARISH, FREDERIC A. PARSONS, DALLAS B. PRATT, GEORGE W. QUINTARD, A. A. RAVEN, JOHN L. RIKER, DOUGLAS ROBINSON, GUSTAV H. SCHWAB, WILLIAM C. STURGES,

A. A. BAVEN, President CORNELIUS ELDERT, Vice-President. THEO. P. JOHNSON, 2d Vice-President. JAS. L. LIVINGSTON, 3d Vice-President

CLOTHING

CREDIT READY-MADE AND TO ORDER. Weekly and Monthly Payments. 80-82 FOURTH AVENUE,

BRYAN TO SPEAK HERE On "Equal Opportunities" at the George Anniversary Dinner Next Week. William Jennings Bryan will be at the Henry George dinner next Tuesday. A telegram received from him yesterday settled that. He will also speak, his subject being "Equal Opportunities." The dinner, which will be given at the Hotel Astor, is in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the single tax movement.

Among the other speakers at the dinner will be Mayor Tom L. Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio; William Lloyd Garrison of Boston, Mass.; Dr. Albert Shaw, Hamlin Garland, Richard-Burton, Edwin Markham, Henry George, Jr., and Louis F. Post.

3.98

A New Last, Military Heels, Shoe trees free; worth 7.00.

5.00 Calf Button dip toe, 2.97.

6.00 Winter Oxfords, 3.98.

Mid-Winter Overcoat Sale. Lengthening days bring strength-

And at the same time ening cold. broken stocks bring weakened prices. For instance :- Hundreds of our higher priced Overcoats are now Reduced to $15, $18 @ $20. And the saving on any Coatin our stock is not less than $5.00, $6.00, $8.00 & $10.00. Hackett, Carhart & Co Three Cor. 13th St.

BROADWAY Cor. Canal St. Stores. Near Chambers.

VOL

Alex R by the in from north throwi darted Raoul leg and by fou the left Crok leg at on the hand b and br ing to possibl way to

by teles

the be inquest team, l garage. Knolles followi Croke Alexand the bea As the opposit with a ley of propell motor approa of the perhaps that wa front ti

> Several several were g away. and pic appare > and as groans Dr. P place w

within i occurre and said and res head a pressed A co men ca mond, doctor and H. Dayton fractur tinued head s the acc Stan cycle, right le have be tine at ley's v until it All e cyclist enough turned speed racing

Stanley car and a racin They position tried to whichO death. could to the risk Wallace and Ed Croker possible Dr. said the arm wo his rec placed as soon Frank automo siderab their de race for